

Loss Prevention Seminar for Physicians

System Update Required: Managing Risk in the AI Era

This course is designed to provide physicians and healthcare professionals with a clear understanding of artificial intelligence and its evolving role in healthcare. The material examines current and emerging applications of AI, along with associated risks and opportunities to utilize AI in your practices. The program highlights patient safety concerns that could contribute to medical malpractice liability exposure and provides practical risk management strategies to support effective integration of AI into clinical practice.

Who Should Attend?

This loss prevention seminar is intended for physicians of all specialties, physician assistants, CRNAs, and nurse practitioners; no experiential or academic prerequisites are necessary.

Course Objectives

This enduring educational activity will support your ability to:

- Describe current trends and legislation with an emphasis on federal and state regulatory activity.
- Recognize legal, ethical, and patient safety risks associated with AI-enabled tools.
- Apply best practices for disclosure, documentation, and clinician oversight to mitigate liability.
